JustCite

JustCite is one of the best, most innovative legal research tools that has appeared in years. The JustCite search engine searches across an index of free and subscription sources from different providers – it's one easy to use interface that removes the need to know which individual source to try searching first. JustCite is the recommended service for all new feeearners looking for UK or EU legislation. Busy fee-earners love its simplicity and the way relevant information is provided. Furthermore, the enthusiasm at Justis is impressive as is the rapid adoption of suggested improvements.

Legal research has just got a lot simpler

JustCite is a unique legal reference search engine and citator service that provides a fully cross-referenced index to an extensive collection of authoritative UK and European information. Customised links to full text

With JustCite you can customise links to full-text documents on a variety of resources. You can enable links to the online legal services you prefer using. This means JustCite can be used as a first port of call to direct users to the sources you have identified as the best for different types of information. This reduces the number of simple enquiries, which makes more time available for information staff to handle more complicated research.
