Feedback:

"We would just like to thank you again for your hard work in regard to my late father's inquest last August. Myself and my family found your service impeccable and to a high professional standard. We feel as though you went above and beyond, both before and during the inquest and we felt reassured knowing you were dealing with everything at that sad time of our lives. Thank you so much!"

Mrs. E. Anderson

Lay Client

Introduction:

Peter joined Clerksroom in October 2018, having spent over 14 years as a Solicitor and Solicitor-Advocate. He trained with global law practice Eversheds, and went on to specialise in both claimant and defendant clinical negligence litigation with Irwin Mitchell and DAC Beachcroft, before setting up his own SRA regulated sole practice, Inquest Legal Ltd.

Called to the Bar in 2018, Peter is now Public Access Accredited and Authorised to Conduct Litigation. He has developed his practice to include a wide range of personal injury matters, including stage 3, disposal and interlocutory hearings / applications, as well as small claim and fast track trials. Peter continues to represent clients at complex medical inquests and can assist with written work including advice on liability and quantum, drafting of pleadings including particulars of claim, defence(s) and related.

Peter's areas of specialism include, clinical negligence, inquests, personal injury, occupiers/public liability, credit hire (claimant and defendant) and RTA (with/without personal injury).

Areas of Specialism:

- Clinical Negligence

Personal:

Peter is married with two teenage children. A lifelong Newcastle United fan, and registered F.A. Football coach, Peter has enjoyed playing, coaching and now watching his favourite sport. He enjoys spending time with his family, playing guitar and trying to keep fit. A mainly fair weather runner, Peter has completed a number of half marathons including the Great North Run and Edinburgh Half.
