Feedback:

"I would highly recommend Amanda to any company or HR professional who requires a Barrister for Employment Tribunal proceedings. She is very direct, confident, knowledgeable, and thorough. She explained the whole process clearly and I felt very comfortable throughout the process that I was in safe hands. The case and the claimant was very challenging but Amanda handled it all fairly with professionalism and tact."

Head of Human Resources

Introduction:

Amanda is a commercial lawyer with an emphasis on employment law and discrimination, who works throughout the UK. She is down-to-earth and direct with her advice. She has experience working for SMEs, companies, media personalities and individuals. Amanda has over 20 years of experience in the employment tribunal and over 18 years of experience in civil and commercial litigation.

Specialisms:

Employment law – with over 20 years of experience in employment law, Amanda has worked throughout the UK and represented claimants and respondents in every area of employment law.

Cases which have been in the news have involved religious discrimination, race discrimination, and pregnancy dismissal. Amanda has represented clients in multi-claimant cases, including 20 claimants in an insolvency matter and defending a pensions issue involving over 11,000 employees. Work includes regulatory advice/compliance and personal injury, in the context of employment law. Amanda does not accept instructions for stand-alone personal injury or pension matters.

Civil and Commercial Litigation – Amanda has 18 years' experience and particularly enjoys jurisdiction arguments and strike out applications, complex legal applications and challenges, injunctive proceedings, judicial review proceedings, human rights arguments, and contractual disputes.

Entertainment law- Amanda has worked for media clients (actors, musicians and a music company) and her work has included drafting/negotiating contracts, settlement agreements, injunctions and defamation. She is the private lawyer for Navi and the lawyer for Showtime Productions Ltd, and is involved (non-legal capacity) with the entertainment industry.
