Dominic Cooper (2002)

Barrister

Introduction:

Dominic practises in family and general common law. A tenacious advocate with an approachable, friendly and sympathetic manner towards clients, he has particular specialism in:-

- Family (all aspects)
- General civil law, including debt and commercial litigation
- Costs – particularly solicitor and own client costs
- Chancery, including TOLATA, Inheritance Act and real property
- Personal Injury, including Employer's Liability, Public Liability and RTA.
- Technology and Construction Court, especially IT and computer related matters.

Dominic was called to the bar in 2002, and cross-qualified as a solicitor in 2004, working as a high street solicitor in respected local firms and in-house before practising independently on his own account since 2010. His experience of running a solicitor's firm means he is approachable and has excellent client care skills, with a good rapport and ability to put clients at ease.

In 2020, Dominic became one of only 150 Bar Standards Board authorised and regulated "entities". His experience and expertise in having navigated the regulatory framework of setting up a BSB entity and dealing with the run-off of an SRA regulated firm allows Dominic to offer advice and consultancy on regulatory matters.

Areas of Specialism:
