

Janine Frederick

General Information

Janine Frederick was called to the Bar of England and Wales in 2013. She specialises in civil and commercial law with a focus in the area of financial regulations. She is currently involved in the niche area of PPI and undisclosed commissions.

Janine is perceptive, astute, and a skilful advocate with a calm demeanour. She is recognised for her persistence, diligence and meticulous attention to detail. Clients can feel reassured when delegating these issues with the purpose of achieving resolution.

Areas of law

- Civil Law
- Commercial Law

Having worked in the financial services industry for close to two decades, including at Goldman Sachs, Janine has deep knowledge of the EU and UK financial regulatory frameworks. More recently, she worked for a global US Hedge Fund as a Managing Director, Chief Compliance Officer – Europe, a member of the Executive Committee and was also the Company Secretary. Janine understands the needs and priorities of those caught up in regulatory investigations and commercial disputes and the issues that may arise.

Her regulatory work has spanned foreign jurisdictions such as Hong Kong, many of the European jurisdictions and North America. She has rights of audience before the Astana International Financial Centre Court in Kazakhstan.

Janine is a Notary Public for England and Wales.
