

Tahir Khan

General Information

Tahir was called to the bar in 2009, having been admitted as a solicitor in 2004. He subsequently became a partner specialising in personal injury and civil litigation at a Legal 500 firm in Manchester city centre. He was awarded the Law Society accredited personal injury practice and panel membership of the Motor Accident Solicitors Society (MASS).

With his exemplary background as a successful partner/solicitor, Tahir brings a very practical and pragmatic approach to promoting his practice and managing client expectations. He remains Manchester based and is prepared to travel nationwide.

Tahir brings a wealth of knowledge and expertise in most legal matters concerning Islamic Sharia Law, particularly in the fields of family and estate succession matters. He is happy to be instructed on any Islamic matters, including Nikkah (marriage) contracts and (khula) divorce proceedings. He has advised on Mahr disputes in both foreign and English jurisdictions, as well as matters pertaining to child custody and residence.

Tahir can provide advice and representation in all matters relating to family law, involving international and domestic jurisdictions. He can be instructed on cross-border issues arising from polygamous marriages, especially those seeking an annulment or divorce in England/Wales. Tahir has advised in many cross-jurisdictional matters, including Pakistan, Morocco, Egypt, Turkey, Iran, Nigeria, New York, and UAE.

Having successfully completed an approved Public Access course with the Bar Council, Tahir can accept direct access instructions via Clerksroom Direct. He set up and is Head of the Sharia Law Group at Clerksroom.

Tahir is willing to accept written instructions on matters of liability, quantum and drafting. He appears in trials, disposals, all types of applications and interim hearings, both local and nationally. Dedicated to providing a quick and efficient turnaround on paperwork, Tahir provides clear yet thorough, practical and friendly advice. He is willing to undertake work on a CFA where appropriate.

Before being admitted as a solicitor, Tahir served as a Police Constable for the Greater Manchester Police for several years. He has also lectured on a part-time basis for many years to the Institute of Legal Executives at The Manchester College (MANCAT).

According to Tahir, "Advocacy has always been a calling for me, and I believe I have found my niche and passion in life". He was nominated as a finalist in the Services to Law category at the British Muslim Awards 2014, presented by The Islamic Bank of Britain.
