General Information

A barrister, civil and commercial mediator, Monica works across a broad range of personal injury, property, housing and construction and commercial matters.

Clients praise Monica for her problem-solving abilities, attention to detail, conscientiousness, friendly and approachable manner, together with her efficient turnaround of instructions.

Monica is proud to have developed a busy civil practice assisting solicitors and clients with advisory and drafting services on a variety of matters. Monica has worked in both a self-employed Barrister capacity and owned/managed legal practices since 2015, meaning that she has precisely the understanding clients need of how each step can feel like a mountain, without adequate support.
